Hammond Invitational a top-rank affair

By Rick Belz

SUNSTAFF

Not often do three of the top five area wrestling teams compete against one another in the same tournament.

No. 1 Curley, No. 4 South Carroll and No. 5 Hammond square off this weekend in the Hammond Invitational.

Add to that auspicious lineup St. Mark's of Delaware, DeMatha from Washington, No. 6 Gilman and 12th-ranked perennial power Mount St. Joseph of the Maryland Interscholastic Athletic Association, and you have the makings of one of the year's best tournaments.

Curley, DeMatha, Gilman, South Carroll and Hammond are ranked Nos. 1, 2, 5, 8 and 9, respectively by the Maryland State Wrestling Association. The event features 25 state-ranked wrestlers.

This may be the last time the tournament is held at Hammond, however, because tournament officials are looking to expand the field from 21 teams this year to 35 teams next year.

That would require moving the tournament to Western Maryland College, said Golden Bears coach Paul DiRienzo.

Hammond tuned up for its own tournament by competing at the prestigious Virginia Duals last weekend, featuring 40 of the top high school teams from around the country. Hammond lost both its matches but gained invaluable experience.

The Bears were beaten by Brother Martin of Louisiana, 50-18, and Parkersburg of West Virginia, 35-32.

Undefeated Vaymond Dennis (13-0) won both his matches at 135 pounds. Mark Read at 145 pounds also won both his matches, as did Jason Freier at 103 pounds.

Hammond, the defending state Class 1A-2A state dual meet champion, has a 5-9 overall dual meet record that includes a loss to South Carroll and victories over Calvert Hall, St. Paul's, Howard, Altholton and Glenelg.

Hammond got past surprising Altholton last week, 29-21. "We're still very young in some places," DiRienzo said.
